NOGAS Newsletter

March 2011

The last of the snow from February's blizzard is still melting as we await the changing Season. While our crews have continued to work at "general cleanups" at many properties, we will soon begin our Spring services. As the weather permits, crews will begin applying dormant oil to deciduous shrub, aerating turf areas, and edging mulch beds.

Nogas Landscaping is a full service company that understands there is no "off-season" in terms of the maintenance of your property. We will soon be sending out a Customer Expectation Survey. Please make every effort to complete the Survey and return it promptly, so that it can be added to your association profile. The information given to us in the Survey, while aiding us in addressing concerns specific to each community, is vital to the maintenance of the high quality of customer service you have come to expect from Nogas Landscaping.

As always, we appreciate your continued business and look forward to a successful relationship in the upcoming seasons.
